Brain Tumour Foundation of Canada

<https://www.braintumour.ca/>

The Brain Tumour Foundation of Canada is a dedicated team of volunteers, patients, survivors, family members, health care professionals and staff, determined to make the journey with a brain tumour one full of hope and support. They work collaboratively to serve the needs of those Canadians affected by all types of brain tumours.

Find information on brain tumours, request an information handbook, look for support groups or even get involved as a volunteer.

National Brain Tumor Society

<http://braintumor.org/>

The National Brain Tumor Society is committed to improving the lives of all those affected by brain tumors by driving systemic change to improve the pace of drug discovery and development. Good source for downloadable books on brain tumors and caregiver information.

Vestibular Disorders Association

<http://vestibular.org/>

VEDA is a highly respected source of scientifically credible information on vestibular disorders.

American Brain Tumor Association

<http://www.abta.org/>

The ABTA is a non-profit organization whose mission is to advance the understanding and treatment of brain tumors with the goals of improving, extending and, ultimately, saving the lives of those impacted by a brain tumor diagnosis. A great source of information on brain tumors, treatment, research and ways to get involved.

The Brain Tumour Charity

<https://www.thebraintumourcharity.org/>

The Brain Tumour Charity is the UK's largest dedicated brain tumour charity, committed to fighting brain tumours on all fronts. They fund scientific and clinical research into brain tumours and offer support and information to those affected, whilst raising awareness and influencing policy. Their aim is to improve understanding, diagnosis and treatment of brain tumours

The International Brain Tumour Alliance

<https://theibta.org/>

The International Brain Tumour Alliance (IBTA) is a global network founded in 2005 as a dynamic worldwide community for brain tumour patient organisations and others involved in the field of neuro oncology.
